Get Rid of That Backache!

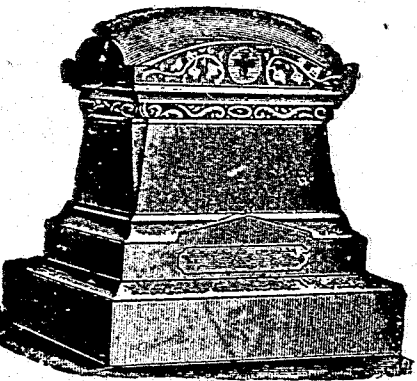

Norway People Point the Way

The constant aching of a bad back, The weariness, the tired feeling, Headaches, dizziness, nervousness, Distressing urinary disorders—Are often signs of failing kidneys. And too serious to be neglected. Get rid of these troubles!

Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Hosts of people recommend Doan's. This is a Norway case.

You can verify it. Philip Everett, 55 Water St., says, "My back was lame and stiff mornings when I first got up. There was a dull pain through my back that kept up steadily. Occasionally sharp pains shot across my kidneys. My kidneys were weak and the secretions burned in passage. I had to get up at night to pass the secretions. Several boxes of Doan's Pills from Stone's Drug Store did me of the trouble."

-TOO WARM FOR THE FURNACE FIRE

Dear Sir:

Just now it is too warm for the furnace fire, so after dinner I retire to the den, open a window to the west, place a heater between me and it, and study and read in comfort, warming the fresh air as it enters.

And then of a sharp morning, I jump out of bed a half hour before time to rise, close the window, light the heater, and lay back in drawing from the patterns thrown on the ceiling by the top of the heater. Then rise and dress in a warm chamber. And a very important fact is that all this comfort has cost me less than eight cents.

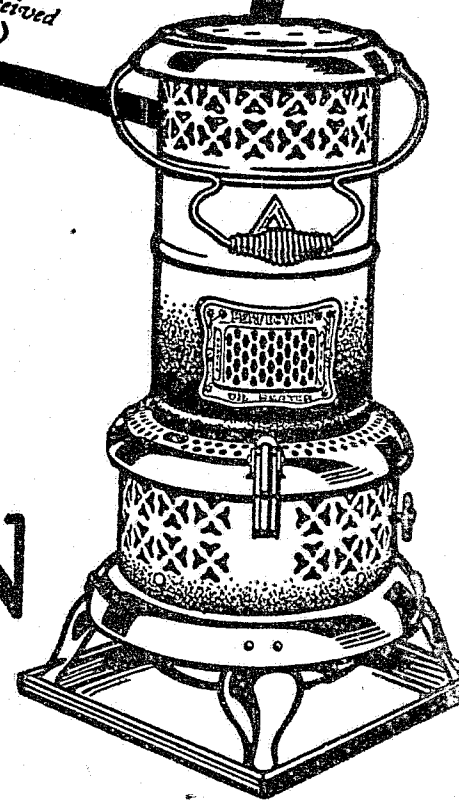

Yours respectfully,
ANTHONY DIXON

Safe!

Lightning takes the easiest path to the ground. With non-metallic lights, that path is likely to be through the hay in your barn. A good iron roof, properly grounded, provides a harmless path for the bolt. Your barn is SAFE if it is roofed with Toncan Metal gives you everything a good roof should give, including protection from lightning and sparks with a lifetime of satisfactory service. Ask for full information and quotations.

THIS WOMAN'S REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Entirely Due To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Forest City, Iowa.—"My first child lived only a short time and I was sick for a year after. When I bent over and raised myself up again I could almost scream with pain in my back. One day I was so bad that I had to leave my washing and get ready to go to the doctor. He gave me medicine but it did no more good than if I drank just water. Once when we had in town a little book telling about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was left in our car. I have taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound now and I do all my housework and take care of chickens and garden. Besides I have a fine baby girl eight months old, just the picture of health and I feel better than I have for years. You may use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. OSCAR F. BORGELIN, Route No. 5, Forest City, Iowa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for sale by all druggists.

BATES—WEST PARIS

The revival meetings that are being held by the Federated Church are attracting quite a lot of attention. Last week, Tuesday night, an auto load came from Naples, where the evangelist, Rev. Walter M. Colby, was working at two different times, including the pastor Rev. Beady and six young people. On Thursday night they came again only there were more of them, a band and containing 15 including the chauffeur. Sunday night the meeting was held in the larger church and at this meeting there was another delegation from Naples of an auto load or two also from Naples and Greenwood. Monday night Rev. H. H. Hathaway, a former pastor, came from Jay and spent part of the week. Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Young of Bryant's Pond accompanied by Mrs. Emily Felt and Miss Willard, were present Monday night. Mr. Colby is a powerful speaker and an excellent singer and leader. He has a small harp with which he accompanies part of the singing and some of his solos. A chorus choir has helped to lead the congregational singing. The meetings will continue through this week and over Sunday, except Saturday night. Everybody is welcome.

Norway and Vicinity

ABOUT TOWN

After one is dead, his good qualities, if he has rendered any, are remembered for a time, and then usually forgotten, except by the historian and the curious, and this reminds me that we are not considering enough of the living ones who have and are doing the most substantial things for us and the community.

No man ever did more for Norway than Ezra F. Beal, but the people of his day were strangely indifferent and denied him the wish of his heart, to represent the town in the Legislature, and this was to mind that to Lawrence M. Carroll Norway people today are more indebted to his prosperity than to any other man. He has served one term in the legislature and is entitled to higher honors. He would be a valuable man in the public service, and if any Norway citizen is to be so honored, Mr. Carroll should be that man.

Edwin S. Cummings has a fine residence on the corner of two streets in the vicinity of the R. R. station. He is one of a remarkable family of boys, born and reared in Norway. It is said by those who should know, that he is one of the very best business men in all this section. Ed. and Kate are general favorites with all classes.

Joe Dubey is a very useful man to have in the community. He knows the whole of town about everything and can turn his hand to any work. Joe can do the best "case-knife" job of any man among us. He once said when it comes to a matter of profanity, there is no language equal to the English, and told of this incident: A Kanuck once started in to berate a miscreant, in French, but wound up in broken Yankee, as follows: "Sacre, You d—n rascal."

Mr. Mel Sampson has lived in Norway for some 55 years and it is recalled that during the whole of that time he has never passed the time of day with him without seeing a smile on his face and receiving a friendly greeting. Capt. Sampson is a prime good fellow, and a man with a good laugh. Long may he hold dominion over the waters of the Great Penesseewassee Lake.

The community is most fortunate in having such a good citizen, and a clean and able official. Mr. Bartlett. He and his charming wife are liked by everybody. His father, Jonathan Bartlett, was the founder of the prosperity of East Stoneham. He was one of the ablest members of the Board of County Commissioners ever lived. No better member of that board and the honors that came to the father will surely come to him if he lives.

G. B. Wiley celebrated his 85th birthday, Wednesday, with a family gathering at his home here, the evening to celebrate the event. A birthday cake, made by his daughters, Mrs. Leon Kimball, and Mrs. Edward Sharon, was served. Mr. Wiley has been in poor health and physically active for one of his years.

George H. Bennett is painting at the Ellingwood Turning Co. factory, West Paris, this week.

MILLETVILLE AND CROCKETT RIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Thaxter Doughty were callers at Green Hills, Tuesday morning. Stanley Thurston has had a serious accident with his motorcycle, resulting in a broken collar bone. He met with a dog on the John Shepard hill, going toward the village and was thrown, laying unconscious for a long time until an auto came along and picked him up and took him to the hospital. The Shermans were away and did not see the accident. As this writing he is resting a little more comfortably. The doctor thinks that he will live, but has been crushed, but, but has given first attention to the broken bones.

OXFORD STATION

THE OXFORD CORN SHOP

The Fernald, Kneese and True corn shop has closed up here. The corn is all in and packed for the year. Everyone was surprised there was such a lot. While the corn has been fine, a wonderful crop. The frost and dry weather hurt some pieces of corn.

While others grow fast and came right along. Some of the ears were as large as your shoe. It was hard for the huskers to carry them through.

Some four hundred thousand is this season's pack. Fifteen days it took to do that. I tell you what, some hustling was done to pack that amount in such a short run.

Mr. Dudley of Poland makes a fine boss. While the workmen all like him as he never gets cross.

But he likes to see the shop running about right. From seven in the morning 'till five at night. And he likes to see the rooms kept neat and clean.

While no dirty places in his shop are seen. So all the corn packed is clean all through. Now machines do the work dirty hands used to do.

Mr. Gammon is the man that ordered the corn in. And told the farmers when the shop would be open. We think he must have done the work about right.

As he kept the shop running from morning till night. Frank Starbird weighed each load of corn. As fast as the farmers hauled it along.

The weighing of groceries instead of corn. Has been his business in days that are gone. Now the corn is ready for the labeling room.

Now start on that work next week. I presume. Allocated in clean boxes as fast as they are able. Then sent off to market to be sold for the table.

The cobs and husks are all hauled away. rubbish outside is left to decay. And when the labeling job is all done. Everything is made snug for the winter to come.

Mrs. Josephine Poor, who has been spending the summer here, has returned to Portland.

School began at Welchville, Sept. 21. Mrs. Ida Noyes has been working in the corn shop.

TRADE AT HOME

You're numbered among good citizens, when you support your home community.

And we don't hesitate to say frankly, that we consider lending to a man of small means, who trades at home, a better banking proposition, than accommodating the man with twice the financial backing, who is buying out of town.

You get a lot more benefit from your money, when it stays in Oxford County.

OUR LAST SEPTEMBER FISHING TRIP SOURDNHUNK LAKES, MAINE

Your request to let you know how the fish were biting at Sourdnhunk, is having attention. Most of the fish bite with the mouth, though some slap the fly with the tail and are hooked. Have caught two in that manner. One made such a fuss about it as to crump the first joint of the rod. The next day the tip became useless and I'll have to get the Thomas Rod Co. of Bangor to make me another. The trout seemed to be less numerous than last year. They have grown larger since my first visit. They average a pound or better, each. In 1923, the weight per fish was three fourths of a pound. That year I took 76 fish in casting a fly 42 hours. The following year (1924) I got the same number in 24 hours less trip. On this trip I cast a fly, practically on the same grounds, 62 hours and caught 66 trout. I was here five days longer than last year, at an expense of $10. On this trip I caught fish less. However the weight of the trout—fish should be sold by weight rather than by number—is about the same.

These are the facts regarding the fishing.

Don't for one moment think that this lake is "fished out." It is not and is far from it. It is my belief that the trout in Sourdnhunk lakes contain more weight of trout in their water than any lake of equal size in the state of Maine. That is a broad statement, but no doubt true. Also that these lakes will remain that way for some years to come, perhaps indefinitely and forever. Let us hope. It can be done. It is up to Chas. Dais & Son, with the co-operation of the guides to do it.

The trout here are not wantonly slaughtered, for a record to talk about. Under the present law, six fish a day can be killed, and only that number per collective fishing party taken out once in seven days. Also the weight cannot exceed 3 pounds unless it is a single fish. With this law reasonably well enforced, the catch of trout is limited to camp consumption, which I feel the water will supply indefinitely.

The turn-key at Sias Hill gate, on the Ripogenus road says that up to the night of August 31st, three thousand cars had passed through the gate going to the dam or beyond. A record is kept of all cars or beyond. A record is kept of all cars going in and a weekly report is made to the Great Northern Company. Also another record is made of cars that pass over the dam.

Think of it! Twelve thousand people is a fair estimate of the number going over the road in four months.

Three new camps have been added to the settlement in the past year. Thirteen is the number of renting camps. All have two beds and some three. I was told there were 42 beds in all. In the guide quarters they have 13 beds. The farm supports three cows and a bull, a flock of hens and some ducks with a large field of potatoes. The deer are good game. The deer trouble the latter more or less as do the weeds, crows, coons and foxes. A caterpillar tractor furnishes power for plowing and harrowing. The wood and iron bridge, Camp Phoenix is some place even if it is sixty odd miles from a post office and the Greenville Red Light District. It looks down on Katahdin, and it is at the top of the world. It is the divide between St. John and Penobscot waters. Visit it and enjoy life High-up-in-Maine, where there is rugged mountain scenery, moose, bear, deer and trout! A worthwhile wilderness.

A crotch horned moose awaited our arrival at the dam. He was feeding on lily-pads, and splashing in the water, among the dry-ki. Apparently very little concerned over our presence. When we took a canoe and paddled up the shore, he slowly walked ashore and disappeared in the woods, to come out a little further up. Here he stood and eyed us cautiously. Had the camera been with us, instead of on the back board, we could have got a picture of him. The light was perfect and distance not more than one hundred feet. This moose has had its picture taken the number of times the past season. Not having been molested has become fairly tame.

Mrs. Twitchell made a trip alone to Dwellie Pond three miles east of the camp, and reported seeing a large cow moose right handy in the water. She snapped it but the film has not yet been developed. On a later trip to Dwellie a moose was seen feeding on the other side of the pond. Several trout from a half to three fourths of a pound each, were seen in the spring hole. Water enticed one to take a bait. They were not interested in flies. There are two springs near each other, close by the road. You can get a good view of the fish.

At this season trout are on other business than feeding. They are chasing one another about and preparing spawning beds. Occasionally one comes to the fly, especially if the fly is sunk to some depth in the water.

Recently in the thoroughfare I took a trout as fast as I could cast. They weighed from one to two pounds each. There were many more in the pool, but they would not touch a fly. Such is the way of a trout.

Beaver dams, on Cold Stream Brook, which empties into the lake near the camp have been broken down. The way is clear for the trout to get to the spawning beds. The brook has been cleared of obstructions. It took two men and a day to do it. The beaver, yet the latter are fully protected by the law. When they become a nuisance however, there is a way to thin them out. Their pellets are worth from $20 to $40 each, and the Game Commission may declare an open season under certain conditions to reduce the stock. This is often done.

The law as operated is all right. The time may come, when an open season will be declared on moose, so the ponds can grow lily-pads for bright-eyed frogs to sit on for the entertainment of summer guests. Who knows? I don't. There are no lily-pads in the ponds hereabout. All eaten by moose!

The camp register contains 271 names of guests up to September 20th. This is an increase over last year. Almost 50 more. Many are here who do not trouble to register. I am signing this with the same signature used last year. Yours, etc.

Note—None of our readers last year interpreted the above scratches satisfactorily to our mind, hence the award of a free copy of this paper was withheld. We still have a curiosity to know who claims ownership to it and get permission for using it. The signature was taken bodily from the Phoenix Camp register, a year ago, and the party using it claimed Boston for home.

ALBANY

Hunt's Corner and Vicinity Sunday morning, at the Albany Church a large audience listened to an inspiring sermon, preached by Mrs. Ives. Scripture reading from Luke 6: 27-38. Her subject "Why are We All Not Better Christians Than We Are?" Mrs. Ives expects to be with us next Sunday, Oct. 4.

The Circle which was held, Thursday evening, was largely attended. The ladies of the Methodist Church, of Bethel, gave the entertainment, a drama, "The Benevolent Society." It was a humorous play with good logic. Each part was well taken, and the entertainment certainly proving another pleasant evening for the Albany Circle.

Roy Andrews has the misfortune to break his arm while cranking an automobile, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Clark, of Bolster's Mills, Miss Kate Foster and sister, from Lynn, were callers at Abel Andrews', Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bumpus and family, of Auburn, were guests of Allen Cummings, Sunday. Miss Sibyl Cummings returned with them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones entertained Mrs. Jones' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Leighton, of South Lancaster, N. H., Sunday.

Miss Hortense Kinsley and Mrs. Ives were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen, Saturday night.

Mrs. Perry, who has been spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Skeels, returned to her home in New York, Monday.

Miss Emma Cummings is visiting her sister, Mrs. Angie Bean.

Harlan Bumpus is assisting Abel Andrews with his work.

Miss Emma Cummings spent Saturday afternoon with the Misses Susie and Emma Flint.

GREENWOOD CENTER Daniel Cole and family attended the Dover Fair, recently.

Horace Cushman, of Shelburne, has been spending a few days at Camp Shady-Acre, at Twitchell Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cole and family spent Saturday night and Sunday, at Elton Dunham's.

Ellis Hansson spent the week end with her parents, at North Newry.

WEST BUCKFIELD H. W. Phillips, who has attended Rochester Fair, returned home Saturday.

C. W. Cooper and Mrs. Estella Cooper, went to Hallowell, Sunday, after Mrs. C. W. Cooper and baby.

Mrs. M. E. Bennett went to Bath, Saturday, and returned, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Bennett and children, spent Sunday at H. H. Buck's.

Miss Alice Scott finished working for Mrs. P. M. Bennett, Saturday night. She is going to work at Buckfield in the apple factory.

OXFORD

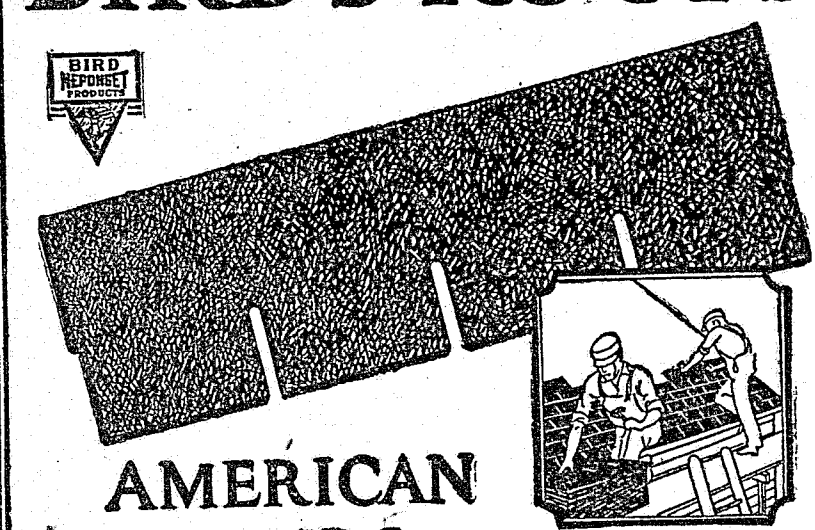

Allen Hill and family, were calling on his brother, Dayton Whitman and mother, Sunday.

Oscar Bennett was a caller at his niece's, Helen Whitman's, Sunday.

Roy Wilkie and wife, called on John Lamb and wife, Sunday.

Dayton Whitman has gotten over his sick spell and gone in to saw pulp again.

Wiscasset, formerly one of Maine's great shipbuilding centers, now famous for its front doors and myriad objects of historic interest, is the subject of the fourth of a series of articles on Maine towns which will appear in The Portland Sunday Telegram next Sunday.

In addition to Mr. Elden's article, which should be read by everyone interested in the history of Maine, next Sunday's Telegram will be completely filled with good things to read.

The football season is upon us and you will find your favorite Maine college and school teams well represented in a most complete sporting section.

Elmer, the hero of Fera's funny page, widely known as "Just Boy," comes into his own next Sunday as the title of one of the most interesting comics of the day.

An automotive section bigger and better than ever, Railroad Reminiscences, The Saunterer, The Haskin Information Bureau and Letter, society events of the week and "The Doings of the Gumps" are some of the interesting features which, with the most complete general news coverage obtainable, are helping to make Maine's Sunday newspaper so popular.

A WORD FROM A RANK OUTSIDER

What a wonderful country is Maine, especially Oxford County. The people of Massachusetts do not know the beauties of this state as well as they should, and where lies the reason for this?

I was born in this state, but at a point so far east that if you were to jump overboard you would be out of the United States, but Maine to me is the best yet. Many things can be done to bring our people from Massachusetts here. Our great improvement needed is "Road Markers." Your present signs are obsolete and not cared for. Your roads should be improved from money paid your state by the Automobile Registration. It is very probable that this money is spent on roads, but your legislature should specify that for at least two years the money should be spent to put in State Highways out through the beautiful hill sections, connecting for instance, Auburn with Rumford, and also the same from Augusta. You have all the material at hand as you build, cost would be very low.

We who drive cars, seek good roads, and will go where we find them. Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, and our western states are always spoken of in the improvement of roads. It is time to start, but a "pinch bar" will tip a big stone that seems impossible to move. Be a "pinch bar," put a pry under your representatives, make 'em do it, and the road will be a popular summer resting place for vacationists.
